Bruce Partington to Join Jones Walker

Pensacola, Florida — Bruce Partington will be joining the New Orleans–based law firm Jones Walker effective March 1, 2026. His departure marks a transition from the Pensacola firm founded by his father more than 50 years ago.

Clark Partington President Keith Bell issued the following statement:

“We thank Bruce for his time at the firm and wish him well in his next chapter. As we mark our firm’s 50th anniversary this year, we remain focused on the future and on the work that has long defined us—serving clients and communities throughout Northwest Florida with professionalism, integrity, and care. Our attorneys and staff, from Pensacola to Destin to Tallahassee, continue to build on a strong foundation and a shared commitment to excellence. The firm’s name continues to reflect the enduring legacy of one of our founding partners, Bruce’s father, whose service to the local community and dedication to the legal profession continue to inform our values and our work today.”

The firm continues its work with confidence and stability, grounded in five decades of service to Northwest Florida and committed to meeting the needs of its clients in the years ahead.
